THE COTTON MARKET yes er lay stood strong, in the main, notwitheranding adverse influence. New York was shivering, "weak and irregular" were the words on most of the day's telegrams from that place. New Orleans retained its figure, Liverpool made no change, and our market lost nothing of its firmness for fair ections. For low middling, and above, it was quite firm. Speculators have discovered that there is mousy in fire cottons, and that those cottors will become scarcer since the weather we have had of late, and their purabases are supporting the market. Common grades, without sharing the good influences that keep the better grades firm, generally held their own. Some of our speculators point out that while the eastern markets had no "squeeze" during November, aithough it had a heavy one the month before, the very quietude now existing gives clear indication of a December squeeze, now approaching. Certain it is that the speculators—who are among the very shrewdest observers of the market-have bought more freely than at any previous time during the present sesson. The official quotations of the Memphis cotton exchange were as fol-

THE GENERAL MARKET was varied yesterday by the opening of an ex-change under the management of a recently organized board of trade. The sales were small, including corn at 47c and 48c, while cur-corn brought 50c. Hay sold at $20 and $24 50. Oats were offering at 44c, but had no takers. Bulk Illinois potatoes brought 37 c a bushel; Michigan peachblows brought $1.80; peerless and pinkeyes were called for. Some yellow onlone brought $2 a barrel. A few apples sold at $250. Commest went at $2.50 as on the day before. The articles comprised most of what was done on 'change. Outside of 'change matters were very quiet. Eggs were slow at unchanged quotations, 27@28c Bran, to the amount of 400 sacks, it was reported, was offering at $17.75, which is a de-cline; we heard of a sale of 45 sacks at that price, but the demand was quiet. Fresh meats are offering in abundance; we are giad to notice the receipt of country-dressed hogs in as good a marketable condition as city-dressed. If country slaughterers would be careful and nest indoing their work, their hogs would bring a cent a pound higher than they usually do, for consumers always prefer ecuntry-fed ment Bulk pork was unchanged, and we repeat quotations Lard re-mains at the same figures except a only small stock, with very moderate sligt decline in tierce. Mess pork is in demand; provisions generally were duil, as we are at the end of the month. The same remarks hold good of several other articles, and the new exchange suffered from the same cause. Had the opening been postponed until the new month began its commencement would have been celebrated by larger and more numerous sales. Chickens were very quiet; small are not at all wanted; hens that are fat as well as full grown, will

107. Western Pacific 865, and Hannibal and St. Joseph convertible declined to 80. This has been a lively and exciting day on the stock exchange, with wider and more frequent fluctuations and greater activity than for a long time past. Union Pacific was the great feature, opening at $1 against 59½ at the case last evening, and shortly afterward reacting to 80½. From this point there was a steady rise to 82½. Pacific Mail advances from $2 to $15 on a very large business. It sams as Pacific advanced to 10½, Lake Shore to 65%, Mis ouri, Kansaa and Texas to 85½. St. Paul 13 26½, 81. Paul preferred to 60½, and the business of the list about 136½ per cent. After midday sensational rumors were set affoat about Michigan Central, it being reported that there was a defalcation in the company, and that a committee of the directors had been appointed to investigate its affairs. On this Michigan Central declined to 57. Following this a rumor was set affoat that Commodore Vanderbilt was sick, which turned out to be unireae, but the market was sold down on the scory. Toward the close of business reliable telegrams from Washington denied the above report, and stated that the President had not yet completed that portion of his message which will treat of the Cuban question, and that he would not be ready to submit it to the cabinet until their next meeting on Friday. When this became known gold declined, and stocks railled in the final dealings on the stock exchange. The general market was strong in tone at considerable recovery from the lowest point of the day.
